Visits Wife In Hospital; Soon Is New Patient

H. L. Sterner, 79, Gardner R. 1, was reported satisfactory at the Warner Hospital today after removal of his spleen at the hospital Friday afternoon.

Mr. Sterner, whose wife is a patient at the hospital, had visited her there Friday afternoon, then left for his home. At 3:50 o'clock his car and an auto operated by Ray T. Hunter, 26, Mt. Holly Springs Mountain Road, collided a mile east of Biglerville near Table Rock.

State police said the accident, in which both cars were demolished, occurred when Hunter, traveling east on a township road, entered the Biglerville-Table Rock Rd. in the path of the northbound Sterner car.

Both Hunter and Sterner were removed to the Warner Hospital in the Biglerville ambulance. Hunter was treated for a broken collarbone.

Sterner was treated for a laceration of the chin and fractured ribs. Then it was suggested, since he was alone at home, that he spend the night at the hospital in case of possible developments in his condition. A short time later he became ill and when it became apparent that he had suffered a ruptured spleen the surgery took place.

Damage was estimated by police at $500 to the Hunter car and $700 to the Sterner vehicle.

XMAS SPIRIT REACHES PEAK MONDAY MORN

Gettysburg and Adams County today made final plans for Christmas—a Christmas that through the calendar's intercession will not only be more religious, but will also provide a two-day holiday for most workers.

The rustle and hustle of pre-Christmas chores will end tonight and Sunday will provide a fitting religious prelude to Monday's observance of the Feast of the Nativity.

Merchants declare the "Christmas spirit" this year was better than ever. Mares Sherman, president of the local Retail Merchants Association, said business was good. "People just seemed to be a little happier, more as if they enjoyed Christmas rather than as if they were making every effort to get a job over with. There seemed time for people to talk a little to friends in the stores and joke more. Good shopping weather probably made every one seem happier." He added, "A lot of people took advantage of the free parking offered by the merchants of the town."

CHRISTMAS SERVICES

Christmas trees sold quickly and by midweek supplies were low. Many homes displayed gaily decorated trees early in the week. Children had their usual round of parties. Two were held this afternoon, the Moose and PFW. At the Moose home toys were presented this afternoon to more than 600 youngsters.

Throughout the county churches will hold special services Sunday and Monday.

Through the efforts of the Holiday Bureau a number of needy families will receive Christmas gifts from various organizations and individuals.

At the county home and jail, attendants were planning turkey dinners for Christmas.

Crippling Blizzard Blocks Roads, Strands Thousands Of Travelers In 3 States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A crippling blizzard howled across the Midwest into Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin today, whipping up six-foot drifts that blocked roads and stranded thousands of holiday travelers.

The storm, which struck on the first day of winter, was so violent in parts of southern Iowa and northern Missouri that snowplows were pulled off the roads for several hours. Hotels and motels were jammed with stranded motorists.

MRS. HERETER WILL RETIRE FROM BOARD

The Adams County Assistance Board December 31 will lose one of its most active members after seven years service.

The board has received notice in the form of a letter to its secretary, Mrs. J. Kermit Hereter, 39 Howard Ave., that her term as a director ends December 31 because of a statutory limitation on the length of service of directors.

In the letter to Mrs. Hereter, State Secretary of Public Welfare Mrs. Ruth Grigg Horting noted that the department regrets "losing the services of members who came to be helpful and dependable" and expressed the hope that Mrs. Hereter will continue her interest as a "graduate" member of the board.

Throughout the state 65 board members retire as of December 31 because they have served in three consecutive terms of three years each.

SUCCESSOR NOT NAMED

For many the length of service will be nine years. In Mrs. Hereter's case it will be seven years. She served one year of an unexpired term and then served two full terms. But because the law reads three "full or part" terms she is barred from immediately succeeding herself in the post.

No immediate announcement was made of her successor.

She has served as secretary of the board almost since the time of her original appointment to the county board of assistance.

Other members of the county board include Chairman F. Joseph Sneeringer, McSherrystown; Vice Chairman Allen S. Stauffer, Biglerville; Mrs. Donald Noel, McSherrystown; Rev. Charles E. Held, Gettysburg; Evan Appier, Littlestown; and Clyde L. Kennedy, York Springs.

BIGLERVILLE FIREMEN WILL BUILD TRUCK

The Biglerville Fire Department plans to start the new year by constructing a truck capable of carrying 1,000 gallons of water.

President Robert Baker said today that a 1962 International chassis has been ordered by the Biglerville Fire Company from Wolff Farm Supply, Inc., with delivery expected about January 4.

A 1,000-gallon water tank is to be placed on the chassis along with a pump to permit faster extinguishing of fires, particularly grass fires. Baker said the members of the company are convinced that "with the additional 1,000 gallons of water we can give better fire protection to our community and surrounding country."

Other activities of the Biglerville company include sponsorship of a roller skating party December 26 from 8 to 11 p.m. at the Mary Jane Roller Rink with free transportation to be provided from the engine house. The company has also purchased 50 2½-pound dry chemical fire extinguishers to sell to the public for home use. Recently elected members of the company were reported by President Baker as Glenn Kuykendall, Melvin Labaugh, Robert Kluck and Donald Blocher.

The Biglerville firemen recently received a letter of appreciation from M. LeRoy Zeigler, president of Zeigler Brothers Feed Mills, for the services of the Biglerville firemen in connection with the blaze which destroyed part of the Zeigler Brothers Feed Mill at Gardner's. In his letter Mr. Zeigler said:

"After having experienced a fire which destroyed a large portion of what I have spent many years building, it becomes most evident that a fire company is more than a carnival-organizing parade-entering and fund-gathering organization. Rather it is a group of men willing to subject themselves to a great deal of danger and personal sacrifice for the benefit of fellow members of their community."

THREE TOWNS GET PAID FOR SEWAGE WORK

Checks are enroute to the Gettysburg, Littlestown and McSherrystown municipal authorities from the state representing grants toward either payment of bonds issued for sewage treatment plants or for new capital improvements.

The state Department of Health said Friday that Gettysburg will receive $4,951; Littlestown $1,160, and McSherrystown, $522.

Attorney Eugene V. Buleit of the Gettysburg Municipal Authority said the sum is an annual grant given through action of the state legislature. It is based upon the amount of bonds issued when the municipal authority constructed its sewer treatment plant. The state said this year's payments represent 1.19 per cent of the bond issues of the various municipal authorities.

PAY $2,977,933

Total of $2,977,933 is being sent to 212 Pennsylvania municipalities under the law authorizing state aid in an amount up to two per cent of the total costs of building sewage plants. While the law permits payment of up to two per cent, the actual percentage is based upon the total amount appropriated by the legislature, the state department said.

In addition to the three Adams County municipal authorities receiving grants, amounts sent to other nearby municipal authorities include: Chambersburg, $12,667; Dillsburg, $1,090; Greencastle, $3,841; Hanover, $11,301, and York, $54,213.

UTES SUNDAY FOR BOY VICTIM OF HIT AND RUN MISHAP FRIDAY

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock for 12-year-old Eugene DeWitt Crigger, of Abbottstown, fatally injured by a hit and run motorist Friday evening at 5:30 o'clock about 500 feet from his home.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said death, from a fractured skull, crushed chest and broken leg, was instantaneous. The child, however, was rushed to the Hanover Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

State police and Abbottstown Police Chief John Bechtel continued through the night their search for the car containing two people which struck the youth as he pushed his bicycle along the Lincoln Highway near his home in Abbottstown. The car reportedly stopped, then sped on. For a time officers thought they had found the auto in East Berlin when a report came to them of a damaged vehicle there, but investigation did not show that auto to have been the hit-run vehicle.

WAS PUSHING BIKE

The Crigger youth, a Sixth Grade pupil at the Lower Adams Elementary School at New Oxford and a member of Emmanuel United Church of Christ in Abbottstown, had gone Friday afternoon to visit an uncle, Elmer Crowl, who resides near the Lincoln Speedway. There he had happily received some Christmas presents and had been prevailed upon to "stay for supper."

When he left for the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crowl, Lincolnway West, Abbottstown, with whom he resided, he found one tire on his bicycle flat. As a result he decided to leave the Christmas presents at the home of his uncle and began to push the "bike" home.

He was walking, pushing the bicycle, along the three-lane highway in front of the U.S. 30 Trailer Sales when he was hit.

HAVE WITNESSES

Police commented that the area was well lighted from the trailer sales lot.

Chief Bechtel said witnesses in the area saw a car pull over after striking the boy, stop, then leave the scene. They described the car as a 1954 to 1956 Nash Rambler or Studebaker sedan, with a white top and a rust-colored body.

The funeral services for the child will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Feiser Funeral Home, New Oxford, with the Rev. John Z. Martin, pastor of Emmanuel Church, officiating. Interment will be in Rest Haven Cemetery, Hanover. Friends may call at the funeral home in New Oxford this evening after 7.

Surviving the child in addition to his grandparents and uncle are his mother, Mrs. Irene M. Higgs, Elliott City R. D., Md.; his father, Garnett R. Crigger, Westminster R. D., Md.; a brother, Robert Crigger, Elliott City; a sister, Angela Crigger, York; two half brothers and a half sister, Clair King, with the U.S. Army, Fort Bragg, N. C.; Joanne Higgs, Elliott City; Charles Higgs, Abbottstown R. 1, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Ida Bell Crigger, Westminster.

Friday's event was the start of a program to determine the interest of young people in establishment of a community center.

In addition, gifts of $1,000 each are left to Sarah Aschenbrenner, Parkville, Md.; Irene Hill, Baltimore, and to Rev. John Houck, pastor of St. Michael's Lutheran Church, Baltimore, for his "personal use."

The sum of $250 is left to the Kingsville chapter of Beta Sigma Phi's Alpha Rho unit.

The bequest to the theological seminary specifies the setting up of a trust fund. The income will finance one or more scholarships to be known as the "John and Gladys Neal Scholarships." Recipients of the awards will be selected by the trustees, with the financial need of students to be a factor.

HIGHER RATE ON SAVINGS OKAYED FOR PA. BANKS FRIDAY

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania banks had the go-ahead today to start paying up to 4 per cent interest on deposits of more than a year.

The State Banking Department authorized the increased interest rates Friday, following the lead of the U. S. Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Most Adams County banks are opposed to increasing their interest rate on time deposits to four per cent and described it as "a real hardship on the country banks."

"Few country banks can afford the higher rate and if they are forced into it by competitors, it may mean liquidations or consolidations," one Adams County banker said. "It shows the trend in state banking circles that favors the big city banks that have comparatively small proportions of their assets in time deposits and will find a higher rate no burden. A much larger share of our assets are in savings and it will be a real burden."

While most county banks will go to the higher rate only if forced to by competition, others said the matter will be up for discussion at the next meetings of the boards of directors. Many expressed surprise that the state banking secretary had issued the authorization in view of a recent survey of banks in the state that showed a large majority of them opposed to such a move.

The order boosts the ceiling on interest rates for long-term deposits from 3 per cent for commercial banks and from 3½ per cent for mutual savings banks.

NOT MANDATORY

However, banking Secretary Robert Myers Jr. pointed out the increases are not mandatory, only permissible rates which banking institutions may offer.

"Each institution must determine for itself what, if any, adjustments to its current interest rates should be made. In arriving at its determination, an institution should carefully consider its condition, its earnings record and its competitive position in the community it serves."

Interest limits are regulated by the state to prevent excessive competition for deposits. More than half of the state's banking institutions indicated in a poll earlier this week that they were opposed to higher limits on interest.

The death toll from highway mishaps edged steadily upward today in the opening hours of the three-day Christmas holiday weekend.

In the first few hours of the period, which began at 6 p.m. local time Friday night, more than 70 persons have died in traffic mishaps.

FIRST VICTIM
The first victim of the holiday weekend was Mrs. Cora Marcotte, 31, of Littleton, N.H., who died in a two-car crash while enroute to Rhode Island to spend Christmas with relatives. Her husband and daughter were injured.

The National Safety Council estimates almost all of the 76-million motor vehicles in the United States will be used for travel at some time during the long weekend. The blizzards in the Midwest and Northern Plains may reduce the figure somewhat.

The record toll for a three-day Christmas weekend is 309, set in 1953. The record for any holiday period was the four-day Christmas period in 1956 when 706 persons died in highway mishaps.

The council estimated that 500 Americans might die in traffic accidents during the holiday period that ends at midnight Monday in a period between 6 p.m. Friday,

Christmas Is Celebrated In Many Ways All Around World

By JAMES D. BOWMAN

The spirit of Christmas rose over a troubled world today despite anxiety and apprehension that cast shadows over far points of the globe.

There was a gaiety and sadness, humor and frustration — but an overtone of faith in mankind and hopes for peace were evident with the approach of the day of observance of the birth of Christ.

The first snow of the season fell on Berlin bringing prospects for the city's first White Christmas in 20 years.

Along the Communist wall, 800 lighted Christmas trees glittered through the falling snowflakes and muted the starkness of the brick and wire barrier. The trees — sent from all over western Europe — irked one leader of the Red East German regime who complained, "They serve the cold war."

INVITED TO DINNER

West Berliners showered the 11,000 U.S., British and French garrisons with Christmas dinner invitations, the Americans high in demand.

"SPELL OF CHRISTMAS"

Hear the church bells gaily ringing . . . see the windows dressed in green . . . and a thousand smiling faces . . . beautify this wondrous scene . . . smell the Christmas trees around you . . . touch their needles damp with frost . . . peace and goodwill pave life's highway . . . we have captured what was lost . . . join the ones who chant the carols . . . lift your voice to God on high . . . tell your children of the Christ Child . . . on His love they can rely . . . place giving ahead of getting . . . giving brings great happiness . . . making one great field of roses . . . out of life's vast wilderness . . . offer prayers of thanks to heaven . . . Christmas truly is sublime . . . what a joyful world this would be . . . if this spell could span all time.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, will send Christmas greetings to West Berliners and other European citizens in a European television broadcast Christmas night.

Elsewhere about the world, many cast aside everyday routine heading for a Yuletide in the sun and the snow.

France's state-owned railways made up special trains to move an estimated 900,000 holiday vacationers to the Riviera, ski resorts and to family reunions in the provinces.

In London, the cause of Christmas spirit suffered what male workers at a camera factory interpreted as a mortal blow. They donned black ties for their last day on the job prior to the holidays in protest against a company ban on office parties. Black crepe decorated the premises and a coffin appeared—in it resting an empty gin bottle labeled the "dead spirit of Christmas."

ON GAZA STRIP

On the Gaza Strip, Danes, Norwegians and Swedes serving with a U.N. military unit guarding the armistice demarcation line on the Arab-Israeli border were not forgotten. Christmas trees and a bounty of Scandinavian delicacies arrived in time for festivities.

On Canada's frozen arctic frontier, Eskimos and whites—trappers, teachers and missionaries—gathered for pioneer-style celebrations and a fare of beans, stew and tea and even turkey, in places.

In Tokyo, where Christmas got little attention prior to World War II, Christmas carols sounded from loudspeakers over streets where crowds surged into department stores gaily decorated with all the trappings. Night clubs featured special Christmas parties and put on their best shows.

Mexicans had a special reason for good cheer. Government employees were granted an extra

42 Killed When Runaway Train Filled With Xmas Shoppers Dives 100 Feet

CATANZARO, Italy (AP) — A runaway railroad car jammed with Christmas shoppers plunged down a 100-foot river embankment today killing 42 persons, police said.

Rescuers said another 28 persons were injured when the last car of a three-coach train snapped loose and rolled off a trestle.

The jam-packed railway car crashed on the rocks at the foot of a river embankment.

Police said 32 persons were killed instantly and two others died after being taken to hospitals. A number of the injured were reported in grave condition.

A driving rain slowed rescue workers who resorted to blow torches to cut through the twisted wreckage and reach the 80 travelers trapped in the coach. Victims were still being removed more than two hours after the accident.

Hospitals in this town of 27,907 in southern Italy sent out calls for blood donors. Doctors and nurses who had started vacations were called back to reinforce the holiday medical staffs. Catanzaro is in the La Sila foothills overlooking the Gulf of Squillace.

Villagers bound for last-minute Christmas shopping spees in Catanzaro were packed in the diesel-powered train.

It rounded a curve and roared across the small river Fiumarella between here and Soveria-Manelli. Two cars got across but the third twisted loose, toppled over the side of the bridge and carried victims to their deaths.

Robs Credit Store In Toy Gun Holdup

HARRISBURG (AP) — Richard Dingle, 36, an unemployed bartender, faces charges of armed robbery today in the $566 toy-gun holdup of the Prudence Credit Co.

Harrisburg police arrested Dingle Friday, just minutes after the small loan office was robbed. Dingle was picked up in a bar near the scene of the holdup.

Officers said he entered the loan office about noon while collection manager Daniel Conley was alone on duty.

Pulling a toy gun, the bandit shoved a canvas gym bag in front of Conley and barked.

"Fill it up."

Police said they found the stolen money in a canvas bag Dingle had with him.

Cancel Reds' Subscription To Papers Near Air Force Base

NEW YORK (AP) — Three Soviet bloc offices in Washington were surprised and mildly indignant upon learning that a Texas newspaper had canceled their subscriptions, Editor & Publisher, the newspaper trade journal, reports.

The cancellation action was taken last week by the Abilene Reporter-News because Dyess Air Force Base is located near Abilene.

The Reporter-News said it did not knowingly print any air base news of security value, but didn't want Communist bloc officials to read anything about the base.

The subscriptions were in the names of August A. Yashin, of the Russian Embassy; Capt. Imre Mozsik, assistant military and air attaché for the Hungarian legation; and K. Petrov, a clerk in the Bulgarian legation.

"PRETTY SPECIAL"

Editor and Publisher said a spokesman at the Hungarian legation said he thought the newspaper was wrong to do what it did, adding that "in Budapest the U.S. military attaché is free to subscribe to any newspaper."

Petrov commented that "Texas is something pretty special in the U.S., I guess." He said the legation was interested in news about the Texas oil industry because oil production is just getting under way in Bulgaria.

UNNECESSARY TIES

It doesn't take a philosopher to figure out that life is pretty much a series of ties. And the older we get the more difficult it is to form a new tie or to loose the old one. The fact is that the fewer ties we form in this world the happier we are. I have friends who seem to be tied to a regular spider web of ties from which they struggle unsuccessfully to escape.

One of the most unfortunate ties is that of being tied to a "set" or "clique." There is little chance of escape here. You are swept on against your will and desire and often you go over the falls that take you into the rapids of failure.

Then there is the tie of acquaintanceship. You have to keep paying toll all along the way. And the way is a rough one at that.

We may not be able to choose our birthplace, but we may choose where we live! Also, we may choose when and where to move.

Another unhappy tie is that to a job. There should be no jobs — just tasks that when finished call for a new one. I never wanted to melt away in a job.

I know of many a man or woman who has bartered his or her success and happiness for a mere mess of tie potage. He, or she, has stayed in the little town when he or she should have sought the big town. He or she has gone to sleep in a small business where he or she should have been wide awake in a big one.

I know a man who fights against the ties of his former life that are grossly unworthy of him. His fine ability is kept trimmed because he has not the courage to break former ties and make new ones compatible with his growth and opportunity.

But there are ties that are very important. For instance when you tie your wagon to a star or two!

Just Folks

ON CHRISTMAS DAY

On Christmas day God grant it be
A happy day for high and low,
For strangers, and the friends we know,

For men who take the ships to sea;

May health and hope return again

To sufferers on beds of pain.

A Christmas wish! How narrow seems

The prayer that's spoken for a friend,

When this old world, from end to end,

With loneliness and anguish teems.

God strengthen mortals everywhere

Whose tasks seem more than they can bear.

Shine out, oh star of Bethlehem,

Earth-where where mortals blindly grope!

Relight the flickering torch of hope;

Restore the faltering faith in them

And let them find beyond the strife

The little joys which sweeten life.

May the Lord's blessings richly fall

On young and old on Christmas day,

Or near at home, or far away.

A Merry Christmas, one and all!

Whatever tempests rage outside,

May peace in every heart abide.

LITTLESTOWN—The pupils of St. Aloysius Parochial School held their annual Christmas party on Friday afternoon at the school. There was group singing, accompanied by Miss A. Marie Budde. Santa Claus distributed candy and oranges. The party was arranged by the St. Aloysius Parish Council of Catholic Women. School dismissed at 2 p.m. for the holiday vacation and will convene again on Tuesday morning, January 2.

The Cub Scouts of Den 6 met at the home of the den mother, Mrs. Reid Pittenturf, Patrick Ave., Tuesday. The boys completed work on holiday centerpieces. Instead of exchanging Christmas gifts, each boy gave a contribution to purchase a wreath for the grave of James Pittenturf, a member of the den who was killed in an automobile accident in March. The next meeting of the den will be held January 9.

Students of the Eighth Grade of St. Aloysius School went Christmas caroling Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. After singing the group went to the home of Alice Redding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Redding, W. Myrtle St., for a party. The class members are: William Eline, Clyde Rohrbaugh, James Sanders, John Schuchart, Robert Altoff, Harold Storm, Michael Oylar, William Smith, Gary Long, Ronald Redding, Robert Miller, Teresa Weaver, Karen Krichten, Nanette Hood, Elizabeth Wetzel, Margaret settlers adopted English dishes such as plum puddings and mince pie. Goose, only one of many courses at 16th-century banquet tables, has kept high place as England's Christmas dinner but shares honors with traditional roast beef and turkey. The bird Charles Dickens immortalized in "A Christmas Carol" was, of course, a brown and savory goose, gushing sage and onion stuffing.

Queen's College, Oxford, keeps an even older tradition: the ceremonial serving of a boar's head, a custom dating back to medieval times when wild boars were hunted. The 20th-century boar's head, decorated as of old with bay and rosemary, is carried to the college table with great pomp to the singing of the ancient carol:

The boar's head in hand bear I,
Bedeck'd with bays and rosemary;
And I pray you, my masters, be merry.

The American Christmas dinner needs no description. From White House to roadside diner, chefs and housewives carve the golden turkey, surround him with creamy mashed potatoes, candied sweet potatoes, and cranberry sauce.

On a map of Christmas foods tiny oases of contrast stand out, made by people who are eating Christmas dinners unlike meals around them. Travelers, families, stationed abroad, new citizens remembering customs of their mother country — all try to serve the Christmas foods which taste of home.

Venezuelans are studying or working in the United States grow nostalgic for hallacas at Christmas; no turkey can take the place of those meat pies. Americans abroad must have turkey for dinner, if it's to be a real Christmas. So Christmas foods go round the world by plane or ship, bound for hungry exiles.

The people like to experiment, to try new things to eat, but when Christmas comes, wherever they are, the holiday meal must be the familiar dishes — foods which hold an extra flavor — Christmas foods.

Mary Adams, Susan Oaster, Sally Mehreck, Linda Harner, Linda Staub, Camilla Sentz and Alice Redding.

The community service committee, Luther D. Snyder, chairman, will be in charge of the program at the weekly dinner meeting of the Rotary Club at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday at Schott's Hotel.

Gary Strevig, Washington, D. C., arrived Friday to spend Christmas at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Strevig, W. King St. Extd.

LITTLESTOWN—Judging of the Christmas lighting and decorations contest will take place Wednesday evening beginning at 6:30 p.m. Cash prizes of $5 and $10 will be given in three categories: Entire house, special features and doors and windows. The judges will be Mrs. Ann Miller, art teacher at Westminster Junior High School; Mrs. John Manspeaker, home ec and home decorations teacher at Westminster High School; and Howard A. Daum, manufacturer and designer of outdoor lighting. Dean W. Bankert is chairman of the contest.

The second December dinner meeting of the Jaycees will be held next Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at Dutterer's Restaurant.

There will be a holiday gift exchange at the meeting of the Tuck-a-Batch Class of St. John's Lutheran Church at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the parsonage. Members are requested to return their Christmas stockings.

Clarence L. Schwartz Sr., Littlestown postmaster, has announced there will be no window service or regular deliveries from the local post office on Christmas Day. Mail will be received and dispatched. Special deliveries and perishables will be delivered.

Most of the stores, factories and places of business in the community will be closed Christmas.

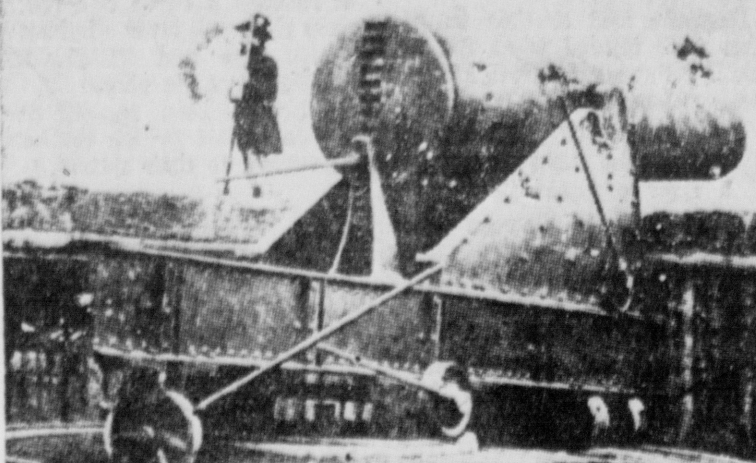

A covered dish supper and yuletide party will be held in connection with the meeting of the Abigail Kammerer Circle of the United Lutheran Church Women of St. Paul's Church at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday in the church social hall. There will be an exchange of $1 gifts. Members are asked to bring a gift for each child guest. Mrs. Leo Kuhn will be the leader.

Rolling Acres Elementary School pupils and Littlestown Junior-Senior High School students were dismissed for the Christmas holiday vacation early Friday afternoon. Classes will be resumed Tuesday morning, January 2.

END OF "TRENT AFFAIR"

Free Rebel Diplomats; War Scare Fades Away

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 27—Secretary of State William H. Seward today ordered the release of two Confederate States ministers seized by U.S. sailors in the notorious "Trent Affair."

Diplomats here and in Europe sighed with relief at the long-awaited ruling. The international incident, smoking like a powder keg for weeks, had brought the United States and England to the brink of war.

Principals in the case are James Murray Seward, U.S. Secretary of State, and John S. Murray, U.S. Minister to England, and John S. Murray, U.S. Minister to France. Both have been held in Fort Warren, Boston, since arrival here after their capture two months ago.

In a note delivered to Queen Victoria's government through U.S. Minister Charles Francis Adams, Secretary Seward acknowledged that the U. S. had erred in "the incident and declared that Mason and Sillidell "will be cheerfully liberated."

THE DECISION followed two days of special Cabinet meetings—including one that started at 10 a.m. Christmas Day — at which President Lincoln was advised that this was the only wise course of action.

Britain, threatening war, at ready had dispatched 8,000 crack troops to Canadian ports and had sent several diplomatic notes to Washington.

Similar notes, all urging the release, had been received by President Lincoln from the French, Prussian and Austrian governments.

John Bright, famed English liberal, had written Secretary Seward: "The great majority of the people will be delighted if some way can be found out of the present difficulty."

"Nations drift into wars . . . often through the want of a resolute hand at some moment early in the quarrel. So now a courageous stroke, not of arms but of moral action, may save you and us," Blake wrote.

MASON and Sillidell were seized aboard the British sloop "Trent" by crewmen of the USS San Jacinto after the "Trent" was stopped and boarded in South Atlantic waters in mid-October. Britain protested on grounds the action violated British rights and was an act of aggression against a neutral.

CUBA'S XMAS IS NOT LIKE OLDEN TIMES

By GEORGE ARFELD

HAVANA (AP)—The red star with hammer and sickle, and signs saying "Merry Socialist Christmas" are the dominating symbols for this year's Christmas in Havana.

All week long throngs of shoppers walked the colonnaded sidewalks of downtown Havana. They seemed to have plenty of money. The government ordered Christmas bonuses for all workers.

The shoppers were in a free-spending mood despite repeated pleas over the government radio not to buy more than necessary so others would not go without.

Many Roman Catholic churches made no mention of holding the traditional Christmas Eve midnight mass.

Despite the socialist trimmings some traditional customs were preserved.

Old world carols could be heard daily on the radio and on one morning this week Christmas chimes sounded clearly on the telephone between rings.

A few dealers offered Christmas pine trees for sale, but business was slack. Cubans were told instead to use palm leaves for decorations.

Strangely enough, however, one huge decorated tree stood in front of a new government housing development across the bay in Havana East.

History Prof At Penn State Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—James E. Gillespie, 74, professor emeritus of European history at Pennsylvania State University has died at the home of friends here.

Gillespie, who died Friday, had lived with his wife in Santa Cruz, Calif., since his retirement from Penn State in 1952. He served on the faculty 30 years.

Survivors include his widow and a brother.

INJUNCTION IS SOUGHT BY U.S. AGAINST G.E.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—The federal government has asked an all-inclusive permanent injunction banning the General Electric company from conspiring to fix prices or rig bids on any item it manufactures.

The request for the injunction, filed Friday in U.S. District Court, covers a range from a small household light bulb to a part for a guided missile—so long as someone else manufactures the same item.

The action was taken, the Justice Department said, because of GE's "proclivity for persistent and frequent involvement in anti-trust violations," and because the public "is entitled to comprehensive equitable relief — without waiting for it (GE) to engage in additional conspiracies."

CALLED "UNFAIR"

Laurence I. Wood, GE vice president and general counsel, commented in New York that the action was "unfair, unreasonable and unnecessary." He said it "seeks orders to prevent the company from doing what it has no intention of doing."

The action was filed with the same court where GE was fined heavily early this year for anti-trust violations. It adds to and consolidates 18 such court orders sought against GE in heavy electrical equipment fields.

The heavy electrical equipment complaints stem from fines of $437,550 against GE and jail terms for three of its executives for participating in what the government has termed the nation's largest anti-trust conspiracy.

Twenty-eight other companies and 45 of their executives were involved. Judge J. Cullen Ganey levied fines totalling $1.9 million and sent seven individuals to jail.

39 ACTIONS

The amended complaint noted 39 separate anti-trust actions against General Electric, 36 since 1941. In 29 of these, the company was convicted, the complaint stated.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the government's move against General Electric did not involve any of the 28 other companies convicted in federal court, and against which civil actions are pending asking millions of dollars in damages.

"The government is seeking to have these other defendants sign consent judgments in which they would pledge not to conspire to fix prices."

Wood said GE stood its ground because it believed it was legally correct and consistent with national policy of "maintaining fair and vigorous competition."

Pipers And Rens Tied For First Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Pittsburgh Rens, who got a 24-hour sniff of first place in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball League, get another chance to move into the top spot all by themselves tonight when they play the Cleveland Pipers at Cleveland.

The Chicago Majors came from behind in the second half Friday night to whip the Rens, 102-89 at Pittsburgh. The defeat enabled the idle Pipers to climb back into a tie for first place with the Rens.

In the only other game of the night, San Francisco defeated Hawaii, 117-113, in a battle between the tail-enders of the Eastern Division. The victory gave the Saints a sweep of their 5-series with the Chiefs and enabled them to climb within 4½ games of Los Angeles.

New York and New Jersey traditionally enroll the largest number of out-of-state students at the Penn State University. The figures currently are 998 and 755, respectively.

Let's Look At The Record

MOBILIZATION REPORT
National Guardsmen Doing Magnificently
32nd And 49th Maintain Best Traditions

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

THE NATIONAL GUARDSMEN at Fort Polk, La., and Fort Lewis, Wash., have their chips up. They are doing a great job in spite of the preliminary, political static.

I can speak from first hand knowledge for Wisconsin's 32nd Division I was with them in every phase of their training last week.

The Texans in the 49th Armored Division probably have the toughest housekeeping job. I know Fort Polk. It never was and never will be in a class with Fort Lewis. I have not been there since the 49th moved in. But General James Van Fleet, of Greek resistance and Korea fame, was recently there. He reported: "Complaints are insignificant and are not representative of the overwhelming majority."

Later, in speaking of both divisions, the general said there quality "is far above any previous mobilization." As he others before him, General Van Fleet regretted the wholly unnecessary crepe that has been hung on the operation by one or two opportunist politicians who sought popularity and future political strength by trading on induee discontent.

When pressed as to whether he specifically had Congressman Alvin O'Konski in mind, the general's response was affirmative, according to news releases.

THE TRIP to Fort Lewis was a marvelous opportunity to look at details. But let us never lose sight of the Big Picture.

America is staging a partial mobilization. The number of Guardsmen and reservists already called to active duty exceeds those mobilized in 1916 for Mexican Border service. That also is a mobilization the same as today, in support of diplomacy. It worked. Mexican pressures ended.

Within a few weeks after the administration began beefing up the Army for possible show downs against minor aggressions with nonnuclear weapons, Khrushchev ceased being in such a big hurry for a Berlin settlement. This partial mobilization is also paying off.

The 32nd and 49th Divisions have attracted more than their share of attention merely because they are the largest, nonprofessional, military organizations thus far called to duty as units.

AT FORT LEWIS, I specialized in conversations with "fillers." All National Guard units not on full-time, active duty normally have authorized strengths less than war strengths. Incidentally, it is not unusual to find a Regular Army unit in the United States at considerably less than war strength.

In all such instances, it is customary to bring them to full war strength by calling sufficient officers and men to active duty from the "ready reserves." "Standby reserves" are not subject to call until somebody lights the powder keg — national emergency!

An overwhelming majority of the three thousand "fillers" on duty in the 32nd were selectees originally. Most has avoided two or more years of active duty in favor of six months. This left them obligated through a longer period of vulnerability in the "ready reserve."

No man from the standby reserve has been called. All were six months to two-year, prior active-duty, short termers from the ready reserve except a few seagants and officers who had voluntarily continued in the ready reserve through military interest, or benefits that might accrue from long service.

I asked one of the volunteer, ready reservists what he had told an involuntary, unhappy buddy when the latter raised the "Why me?" moan. "I told him to write his draft board, because I did not know why they selected him for any duty at all," he replied.

In civilian clothes, without a note book, and on firing ranges, in mess halls, barracks, post exchanges and units streets, I talked to scores of other "fillers," in many companies and batteries. Only one told me he had made a mistake in choosing the six months of training and the longer term in the ready reserve. I left him in an arithmetic argument with a more satisfied buddy.

Most of the "fillers" were not from Wisconsin. This is contrary to an impression created by a Wisconsin congressman. Nearly all fillers were delighted to be in the 32nd Division rather than some other outfit.

We have heard much of how the 4th Regulars, an excellent division, has assisted the 32nd. I found this to be a two-way street. When I visited the Regular Army technical schools, nearly half the instructors for courses containing both 4th and 32nd Division men were wearing Wisconsin's Red Arrow shoulder patch.</

Bermudian Springs took sole possession of first place in the Adams Division of the Adams-Franklin League by turning back invading New Oxford 61-38 Friday evening.

The Eagles jumped out to a 16-7 lead in the first period and were on top the rest of the way, finishing with an 18-point spree in the last frame, Craig Hoke and Tom Hardy landed 23 and 17 points, respectively, for the winners. Dave Meckley paced the Colonials with 14.

Greencastle moved into a three-way tie for the leadership in the Franklin Division by clobbering Littlestown 83-42 on the Blue Devils' floor. The winners connected on 37 shots from the floor in 67 attempts as compared to 12 of 43 for the Bolts. In rebounding Greencastle grabbed 34 while the Bolts snared 26. The Devils presented a big, fast good-shooting team that is certain to make a strong bid for title honors. The Bolts hustled all the way but were outclassed. Dale Bair and Ronnie Smith netted 14 and 10 points for the losers while Overcash and C. Dixon led Greencastle with 15 and 13.

FAIRFIELD WILTS
St. Thomas also gained a three-way first place tie by nipping Fairfield 58-46 on the Saints' floor. After trailing 22-18 at half-time, Fairfield spurted in the late seconds of the third frame for 40-38 lead. It was tied 42-42 early in the last quarter and then three goals in a minute by the Saints sent the home team on its way to victory. Tom Reindollar and George Haines bagged 17 and 16 points for Fairfield while Dennis Statler topped the Saints with 22. Quincy upended Fannett-Metal 65-39 at Quincy.

CANNERS TOP ALUMNI 50-40 TO EVEN MARK

A brilliant shooting performance in the first half got the Biglerville High Cannners off to a 29-12 lead at half time as they breezed through to a 50-40 victory over the Alumni in the annual game Friday evening.

Coach Bernie Thrush's varsity piled up a 44-23 lead going into the final period when the Alumni came to life with 17 points but the Cannners easily maintained their advantage. The varsity turned in a dazzling performance from the foul line with 12 conversions in but 14 tries.

Bill Sanni, Barry Trostle and Gordon Harvey each broke into double figures with 20, 12 and 11 tallies, respectively. Jimmy Kuhn was high man for the oldsters with 15.

The victory gives Biglerville a 3-3 record. The next action for the Cannners will be on Tuesday, January 2, when unbeaten Carlisle will be met on the latter's floor as the South Penn League opens.

DARK HORSES FOR OHIO STATE, SOUTHERN CAL

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Ohio State and Southern California, two of the nation's best, face a couple of long-shot dark horses tonight in their last outtings before the Los Angeles Basketball classic—one of the country's top holiday invitational.

Their matches, along with the Kentucky-Kansas State clash for the title in the Kentucky Invitational, top a relatively sparse Saturday schedule.

The mighty Buckeyes, unbeaten in six games and No. 1 in the nation are at home to meet Penn State (5-1) while the sixth-ranked Trojans visit unbeaten Utah State (7-0).

SIXTH FOR SOUTHERN CAL
Southern Cal, with all letterman back from a team that ranked seventh in the nation in the final Associated Press poll last season, stormed over Wyoming 76-54 Friday night for its sixth victory against a lone defeat, a 66-56 upset at the hands of Oklahoma.

Utah State, while unbeaten, has not played the schedule so far encountered by the Trojans, and hopes to find them looking ahead to next week's tourney.

John Rudometkin, who owns the Southern Cal career scoring record, tossed in 23 more and grabbed 23 rebounds in the victory at Laramie, Wyo. His efforts helped the Trojans to a 22-11 lead midway through the first half and Wyoming wasn't close again.

47 FOR MCGILL
Kentucky finished Tennessee 96-69 and Kansas State dropped Xavier 75-67 in first round games and gained the finals of the Kentucky tournament, while Utah, paced by Bill McGill, drubbed Arizona State 102-89 in last night's other top games.

McGill, a 6-foot-9 center who owns the country's best collegiate scoring average, 37 points, popped in 47 despite a two- and sometimes three-man defense thrown against him by the slumping Sun Devils.

Arizona State had started the week tied for 10th in the nation, but lost to Indiana and Minnesota before running into Utah on its current tour. Utah's only loss in Arizona State team earlier in the eight games was 78-76 to the same 6.

KANSAS STATE WINS
Mike Wroblewski was the big gun as fourth ranked Kansas State remained unbeaten in seven games. He contributed 31 points, 21 in the last half, and including eight straight as the Wildcats pulled out of a 62-62 tie and put it out of reach.

Kentucky, angling for a spot in the national ratings, got 34 points from Larry Pursiful in its relatively easy triumph over winless Tennessee. Pursiful hit for 24 in the first half as Kentucky established a 35-29 lead at intermission and steadily pulled away.

Among the other major results, Texas A&M clipped Auburn 62-50 and Houston punished UCLA 91-65 in a doubleheader at Houston; Alabama edged out Davidson 68-

GRIFFITH TO MEET LOGART

NEW YORK (AP)—Emile Griffith, who plans to fight often until he gets another title shot, takes on veteran Isaac Logart of Cuba in a television bout at St. Nicholas Arena tonight.

Griffith, a 23-year-old New Yorker via the Virgin Islands was a 3-1 choice to beat the 28-year-old Logart in the TV-ABC, 10 p.m. EST-ten rounder.

Griffith is in line for a rubber bout with welterweight champion Benny Paret of Cuba in March.

Emile won the crown last April 1 by knocking out Paret. But Paret regained the 147-pound division crown on a disputed decision on Sept. 30.

Logart, once a dangerous puncher and leading contender, could ruin Griffith's hopes with an upset. But like isn't as fast and tough as he used to be a couple of years back when he was ranked. He no longer is in the top ten list.

Griffith, now ranked No. 1, has a 26-3 record, including 10 knockouts. Logart's record is 60-17-8 including 23 kayos.

Scoring will be by the rounds system.

Penn State Breaks Camp In Virginia

FT. EUSTIS, Va. (AP)—Penn State's football players were to head home today, after one last workout in preparation for their Gator Bowl game with Georgia Tech next Saturday.

Coach Rip Engle was dissatisfied with Friday's goal line defense drill, in which the Nittany Lions' fourth unit scored several times against the first and second teams.

Despite the poor showing, Engle said his team generally was in good shape.

The players will reassemble Monday night for the trip to Jacksonville, Fla., and the final preparations.

Kansas State And Kentucky To Clash

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—As expected, fourth-ranked Kansas State and Kentucky will play for the championship of the annual University of Kentucky Invitational Tournament tonight, thanks to a couple of one-man shows.

Kansas State's Mike Wroblewski wrecked Xavier's hopes for an upset by leading the undefeated Musketeers from Cincinnati Friday night. And Kentucky's Larry Pursiful set a tournament record for field goals with 17 in the Wildcats' 96-69 triumph over Tennessee.

Wroblewski, who is 6-foot-8, ended up with 31 points. Pursiful, a 6-foot backcourt star, scored 34.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The City of Miami Beach Handicap, which attracted 26 nominations, finds 19 of them entered for today's feature at Tropical Park, forcing a split in the mile and 70 yards race for 2-year-olds.

Nine are in the first half, headed by Puss N Boots and Nip O'Brandy, each carrying 121 pounds and Florida-bred Cavalanche, under 116.

Su Ka Wa, beaten in the recent Dade Metropolitan Handicap, carries top weight of 123 pounds in the second division, and tackles Good Fight, winner that day in a close finish. Good Fight carries 121 pounds.

Start Practice For Blue-Gray Contest

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—All players and coaches were to be on hand and ready to start practice today for the annual Blue-Gray football game Dec. 30.

Heading up the coaching staffs for the nationally televised game are Ben Schwartzwalder of Syracuse for the North, and Ray Graves of Florida for the South.

North Squad To Attend Wedding

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Practice was to end a bit early for the North squad which will play in the college all-star football game Christmas night.

The players were going to the wedding of their teammate, Rutgers center Alex Kroll, and blonde Phyllis Renford at 11 a.m. in a Miami Beach hotel.

North and South teams both pleased their coaches in workouts Friday for the game, to be held in Miami's Orange Bowl.

Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State, coaching the North squad, said "the kids have their assignments down pat. They are a fine bunch, with a lot of spirit and enthusiasm."

Clemson Coach Frank Howard said the South team went through "by far the best practice we've had. They're running much better—like they know what they're doing."

GOPHERS, UCLA TO GET RECESS NEXT 2 DAYS

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Santa Claus stiff-arms the Rose Bowl preparations of Minnesota and UCLA into Christmas stillness most of the next two days.

The Gophers, behind the Uclans in practice time, dashed through their final double workout today and were scheduled for a single drill Sunday afternoon before quitting for a Christmas Day respite Monday.

UCLA had a light drill today and then coach Bill Barnes excused his charges for a Sunday-Monday holiday. Tuesday, the Uclans shift from their own campus to Long Beach City College for the final phase of practice for the New Year's Day contest with Minnesota.

WIVES ARRIVING
Coaches Murray Warmath and Barnes, their staffs and their films and libraries of plays started taking back seat to the holiday today.

The wives of eight Minnesota players were to arrive by plane to join their husbands. After UCLA has a brief late morning drill, Barnes' boys all were free to spend Sunday and Monday at home. The nine married Uclans can bring their wives if they wish to the team's Lafayette Hotel headquarters in Long Beach when practice resumes Tuesday.

Final statistics on the 1961 small college football season, just released by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, reveal that Earl Little, Gettysburg College quarterback, finished 10th nationally in passing, completing 90 of 172 tries for 797 yards, four of which went for touchdowns. Ten of his passes were intercepted.

Ronnie Crouse, former Littlestown High star, finished 17th among the punters with an average of 40.5 on 47 boots for Catwaba College.

2 STARS FIGHT FOR SAME POST ON EAST TEAM

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two star collegiate quarterbacks find that competition in football isn't always limited to play against the other team.

Battling to win the starting job for the East in the East-West Shrine game here on Dec. 30 are Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State and Ron Miller of Wisconsin.

Both have been signed by the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League who already have two veterans.

So although they played for schools in widely separated parts of the nation, their football futures now clash head-on. Forward passing statistics for 1961 found Miller in the No. 2 spot with 104 completions out of 198 throws for 1,487 yards and 11 touchdowns.

99 OUT OF 186
Gabriel ranked right behind him with 99 strikes out of 186 attempts. His throws gained 937 yards and eight went for touchdowns.

As practice started for the East at Santa Clara, coach Joe Kuharich had Gabriel lined up with the first backfield.

"I don't know who will start," the Notre Dame mentor stated. "I'm hoping both play a lot. After four or five days of workouts here, we'll see who takes charge of the offense better."

Issue Warning Against Tree Shrub Sales Who Sell Through False And Misleading Claims

By FRANK S. ZETTLE
Adams County Farm Agent

The Federal Trade Commission plans to crack down heavily on fly-by-night operators selling trees and shrubs and other plants to consumers through false and misleading advertising claims.

American Association of Nurserymen, with the cooperation and approval of the Federal Trade Commission, lists these safeguards for home owners purchasing plants:

Beware of outlandish advertising claims relating to growth, flowering or fruiting of trees and shrubs, as found in such statements as "grows 20 feet in two months"; "produces thousands of exotic blooms in a few weeks" or "supplies many bushels of fruit the first year." The clue to practically all misleading advertising is heavily exaggerated claims.

EXAGGERATED CLAIMS

When advertising for plants seems exaggerated, check before purchasing with established nurserymen, the Better Business Bureau, state extension services, botanical gardens, or other reliable sources.

Sometimes common names that mislead the public are associated with plants, an example being the "Amazing climbing vine peach," which is not a peach at all. This "vine" produces a hard, gourd-like fruit, not even edible except when canned as a preserve.

Question claims of "tremendous bargains." This can be done by writing the firm for a retail catalogue to check regular prices.

If there's any doubt about the age, size, grade or quality of the plant, write and inquire about it before purchasing. Established nurserymen will supply this information.

WATCH GUARANTEES

Pay particular attention to guarantees. For example, the nature and extent of the guarantee and how it will be honored should be disclosed fully. The advertiser's identity and mailing address should be fully given. The Federal Trade Commission has established "Guides Against Deceptive Advertising." Check with these, if possible, at a public library.

Fly-by-night operators advertising plants usually concentrate on one product a season and push it hard through direct-mail advertising, radio and large ads in newspapers as an "amazing, new discovery," or a "fabulous value" when it may be nothing more than a very small plant, or even a weed.

"Established nurserymen are up in arms over unscrupulous sellers of plants who spring up every so often and defraud the public until the FTC catches up with them. Every effort is being made by the whole nursery industry to protect the public from the unscrupulous operators. Dealing with nurserymen who have long been established is your best guarantee of satisfaction. They will send you a nursery catalogue or other information on request."

SOUND SHELLS ON EGGS

Eggs that grade AA and A must have sound normal shells. Varying degrees of egg thinness are permitted in B and C grades. These defects determine the ultimate grade despite the fact interior quality may meet A or AA requirements.

Ample shell making material, readily available to the laying flock, is the principal aid the poultryman can provide to assure sound shell structure. After 10 to 12 months of intensive production the shell gland of some laying hens fails to function as well as before, so shell defects become more evident. Poultrymen who want to keep better layers for a second year of production are urged to check the per cent of sound shells produced toward the end of the laying year.

WASH DAIRY EQUIPMENT

Washing compounds work well in some water supplies, but every dairyman must assure himself that the washing compounds he uses are compatible to the farm water supply.

BANK TELLER EMBEZZLED OVER $300,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A former high school athlete with a promising career as a banker was arrested Thursday and charged with embezzling more than a third of million dollars.

Seven hours later FBI agents arrested the owner of a Philadelphia taproom and accused him of receiving about $150,000 of the embezzled money to cover gambling bets.

SECOND MAN HELD

The FBI said Barnes, 25-year-old father of one whose wife is pregnant, admitted taking the money over the past 10 months and gambling it on horse races and athletic events.

Hours after Barnes was ordered held in $7,500 bail the FBI arrested a second man and identified him as the person with whom Barnes placed bets.

Robert McDevitt, 30, owner of a Philadelphia taproom, was charged with aiding and abetting in the embezzlement. He was ordered held in $7,500 bail at a hearing before U.S. Commissioner Edward Furia.

"CRAZE" FOR GAMBLING

Barnes, who worked for First Pennsylvania since 1955, had been head teller for the past two years.

At a hearing, also before Furia, his attorney said gambling was a "craze" with him.

FBI agent Jack Conley told Furia Barnes admitted taking the money over the past ten months and manipulating the books to Generally, when the product is mixed in the water, according to manufacturers' directions, there is no cloudiness of sediment, so the product will be satisfactory for use.

Dairy equipment should be rinsed, soaked in a washing solution, brushed, rinsed and stored dry. Keep water temperatures between 100 and 120 degrees F.

Just before use, sanitize the equipment with a sanitizing solution, or by fogging.

VANCOUVER (AP)—Churches, like homes, should be designed for those who live in them, says architect William Wilding.

Color, light, fabric and the use of appropriate wood can induce a worshipful response on the part of the churchgoer, just as a well-planned home gives a sense of warmth and security to a family, he says.

Wilding says the order of service of the church should have an effect on the design of the building.

"Some denominations require a church that could almost be classed as an auditorium, others with a strong emphasis on liturgy require focusing of the main attention on the chancel and the minister."

Fighter Pilot To Become Minister

BOONVILLE, Mo. (AP)—A former fighter pilot who flew in the Pacific theater in World War II is beginning a new career in the Episcopal ministry.

Maj. Warren D. Jackson, 44, has retired from the Air Force and will be eligible shortly for ordination in the Episcopal Church. He and his family will live in Boonville, where he is assigned to the office of the diocesan in-charge of Christ Church. He began his ecclesiastical studies in 1950 while serving as an Air Force instructor at New Mexico College of A&MA, and has continued while serving in Texas, Honolulu, Alabama, Michigan and Missouri. He presently serves as deacon, allowed to give sermons and baptize, but not serve communion or perform marriages.

ROUTINE AUDIT

"But just how he did it, we don't know yet," said Gantley. Bank officials said the short age was discovered Thursday during a routine audit. They said several audits had been conducted in the past ten months, which failed to show any irregularities.

Barnes, a 1954 graduate of Upper Darby high school where he played varsity football, attended Villanova University for six months before joining First Pennsylvania. After a two year hitch in the Army, mostly in France, he returned to the bank and rose quickly to the position of head teller.

Chess Match Ends After 34 Years

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—The MacLennan-Grant chess match is inching toward its end — after 34 years.

Dr. Munro MacLennan and Laurence Grant started the game while both were students at the Glasgow University. Dr. MacLennan is now retired and lives in Sydney, Australia. Grant is still in Glasgow.

They move their pieces by mail at Christmastime — one man's move a year. It's Dr. MacLennan's move this year.

Both expect the game will be over in about 15 more years. "Ye cannae hurry these things," explained Grant.

Cattle Enjoy Golf Balls On 4th, 5th

WEST LOTHIAN, Scotland (AP)—The latest taste fad among the cows of West Lothian is golf balls.

A herd of 20 cattle continuously munch the little tidbits while members of the Uphall Golf Club resignedly throw up their arms.

The bovine golf ball eaters lie in wait for their repast around the 4th and 5th tees and pounce on the balls when a shot pitches near the greens.

"I've played this course for 14 years now and have lost count of the golf balls I've lost to these cattle," said golfer Michael Brennan.

Dust Will Be A Problem On Moon

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A dusty mess, several inches thick, will be one of man's major problems when he lands on the moon.

Dr. Roy G. Brereton, a space-age planner for Aerojet-General Corp., explains the mess is an accumulation of stardust which has fallen on the moon for millions of years. He says a space ship's engines could kick it up into a blackout dust storm; it could gum up the ship and its equipment, and it could present very hazardous footing.

Brereton estimates about five million tons of this same stardust falls on earth every year. Good housekeepers, who know it as common dust, brush and vacuum from rugs, shelves and other places. Nature also helps dispose of it — with rain, wind and waves mixing it in with the normal earth and rock.

But the man in the moon has no housekeeper. And the lunar surface has no rain, wind or waves to help get rid of the dust.

COLD SPRING HARBOR, N.Y. (AP)—Capt. Russ Muff didn't have a ruler handy but on the side of his old boathouse are markings showing that Harry Peckham's 22 1/4-pound striped bass was 32 inches long. It was caught one morning at 6 o'clock during high tide at the mouth of Huntington Bay. Peckham caught four other bass, one of which weighed 18 pounds. He used tandem hooks with sand worms.

MAY RESUME NUCLEAR TESTS IN ATMOSPHERE

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in their first five-hour talk here may have reluctantly come to the conclusion that the United States must soon resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere.

Macmillan's spokesman told newsmen that "the President and the prime minister heard a presentation by their experts on the subject of the recent Soviet tests."

He was asked whether the discussion included the possibility of resumption of tests in the atmosphere. He declined to "go into the substance of the discussion." And White House press secretary Pierre Salinger quickly added that the discussion "centered on the report from nuclear experts of both governments on the recent Soviet tests."

ABOVE GROUND TESTS

Salinger was asked if the President requested these reports so he could make a judgment on what policy the United States would pursue. Salinger replied the President's statements on the whole question were clear and still stand.

The tenor of the President's statements in recent weeks on testing has been that it might be necessary to resume above-ground tests in the interest of national security.

A decision to resume testing might be a difficult message for Macmillan to bring home to fall-out-fearful Britain and Europe. It may be one of those hard decisions which is broken to the world public gradually.

On Berlin, too, there are apparent differences. Macmillan's spokesman said there was complete agreement there also, but Salinger qualified this by saying the agreement was on "the subjects discussed which are ... steps which can be taken in this particular field."

The two leaders, through their foreign ministers, already had agreed that the next step would be probing talks by their ambassadors in Moscow to determine what basis might be found for formal negotiation with the Soviets on Berlin.

But there was no indication that they had agreed on possible steps after that.

Dog Boots Make Profitable Firm

ENID, Okla. (AP)—An Enid man has turned his concern for his hunting dog into a profitable business — the manufacture of dog boots.

Fred Lewis, operator of a brake and wheel alignment business, started making rubber boots to protect the feet of his dog 11 years ago.

Since then he had made and shipped more than 4,000 sets of the boots throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico.

He has supplied boots to the Army for guard dogs and recently shipped some to Alaska for trial use on mountain lion hunting dogs.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

TWO HOUGHTELAIN WILLS

The historical and genealogical study of the "Lower" Dutch Reformed Churchyard which, due to time and vandals, must of necessity be incomplete — is continued at this time with notes on the few remaining marked graves — which can still be found in this quaint "God's Acre."

The Durboraw family, which can boast of five marked graves in this burial ground, has already been discussed in some detail but there are two other Durboraw grave markers near the upper end, just back of the Houghtelaine family plot, that deserve mention in this series of articles. The inscriptions are as follows:—

1. "In memory of Rebecca Durboraw, Died March 13, 1839, Aged 74 years and 2 days."

Note:—Adams Sentinel, Monday, March 18, 1839 —

"Died, Wednesday morning, March 13, 1839, Mrs. Rebecca Durboraw, wife of Mr. Isaac Durboraw, of Mountjoy Township, this County, aged about 74 years."

2. "In memory of Isaac Durboraw, Died August 15, 1853, Aged 88 years, 11 months and 13 days."

Note:—Adams Sentinel, Monday, August 22, 1853 —

"Died, Friday, August 15, 1853, at his residence in Mountjoy Township, this County, Mr. Isaac Durboraw, in the 89th year of his age."

SMALL GRAVE MARKER

Isaac and Rebecca Durboraw were probably the parents of the William Durboraw, born 1792 — died 1828, who is buried, apparently, in the same family plot. Also, near that of his father is the small grave marker placed over a hundred years ago at the grave of the little son of William and Catharine (Brinkerhoff) Durboraw.

3. "In memory of Henry B. Durboraw, son of William and Catharine Durboraw, Died November 23, 1824, Aged 1 year, 2 months, and 15 days."

Note: — Adams Centinel, Wednesday, December 1, 1824 — "Departed this life, November 23, 1824, after an illness of only a few hours, Henry Brinkerhoff Durboraw, son of William and Catharine Durboraw, of Mountjoy Township, this County, Aged 14 months and 15 days."

Buried near the Durboraw family plot is Maria (or Mary) Brinkerhoff and although the stone at her grave has long since been broken and scattered enough remains to piece together at least part of the inscription —

4. "Sacred to the memory of Maria Brinkerhoff, Died August 10, 1820, Aged —."

Note: — Adams Centinel, Wednesday, August 16, 1820 — "Died, Friday night, August 10, 1820, Miss Mary Brinkerhoff, the daughter of Mr. Henry Brinkerhoff, Esq., of Bunnichtown, this County."

HEZEKIAH'S WILL

Mary Brinkerhoff, or Maria as she was sometimes called, was a sister of the Catharine Brinkerhoff, the wife of William Durboraw. This probably accounts for her burial in the "Lower" Dutch Reformed Churchyard. There are no other marked Brinkerhoff graves in this graveyard.

In the Houghtelaine family plot are the graves of Hezekiah Houghtelaine and his wife, Charity Houghtelaine. Hezekiah was the first to die and in his will, which was written September 4, 1839, and entered to probate October 12, 1839, he disposes of his "worldly goods" as follows:—

1. "To my beloved wife, Charity, one Cow, one Bed, one Bedstead, Stove, Corner Cupboard, Buree and a Sufficiency of Household and Kitchen furniture, all of her own choice — My Executors to supply her a sufficient quantity of all the Necessities of Life as long as she thinks proper to reside on the place where I now live and if she wishes to leave the property my Executors to furnish her with the means of a Sufficient Support at any place she thinks proper to reside."

After having provided for his wife Hezekiah goes on to mention "my legal issue" —

2. Daughter — Polly Houghtelaine intermarried with William Walker.

3. Son — Cornelius Houghtelaine.

4. Daughter — Magdalena Houghtelaine intermarried with Henry Lott.

5. Son — William Houghtelaine.

6. Son — Abraham Houghtelaine.

7. Son — Hezekiah Houghtelaine.

8. Daughter — Sarah Houghtelaine intermarried with Peter Ber-caw.

9. Son — John Black Houghtelaine.

In her will, which was written August 5, 1840 and entered to probate August 14, 1840, Charity, the wife of Hezekiah Houghtelaine, mentions only her daughters — and her bequests consist solely of personal possessions —

1. Daughter — Polly Houghtelaine intermarried with William Walker "my Silver snuff Box."

2. Daughter — Magdalena Houghtelaine intermarried with Henry Lott "my Silver tea Spoons."

3. Daughter — Sally Houghtelaine intermarried with Peter Ber-caw "all that is left belonging personally to me."

D-DAY RECREATED — Soldier-actors hit the beach at France's Ile de Re in a reenactment of the Omaha Beach landings in 1944. The scene, using real G.I.s, was staged for the film "The Longest Day," a story of the D-Day landing.

This concludes, for the time being at least, the notes on the Houghtelaine family.

Sad but true, at the present time, there are in this old churchyard no other tombstones, with complete inscriptions, to be found. However, there are a number of graves marked only by fieldstones and some of these contain partial inscriptions.

1. "A. D. B. 1772."

2. "H. C." (Sandstone marker in the Cowover family plot).

3. "M. D. 1798 S. + 4 D."

4. "1781 F. K."

These notes on the "Lower" Dutch Reformed Churchyard will be continued next week.

India, with one undergraduate and 36 graduate students, boasts the largest number of international students currently enrolled at the Pennsylvania State University.

By FRANK ECK
The Associated Press

On New Year's Day it will be possible to watch nearly half of The Associated Press All-American team in action if (a) you own a television set and (b) you focus the proper channel at the proper time.

Five All-Americans will see action. Two of the top 11 from the 1961 collegiate ranks will be playing on opposite lines in Miami's Orange Bowl where LSU is expected to give Colorado its compen-

UCLA will feature Roy (Moonie) Winston, a 225-pound guard who is so fast and agile that he also plays defensive tackle. He was the star of Paul Dietzel's Tigers, winner of their last nine games after losing the opener, 16-3 to Rice, when many regulars were laid low with a virus.

COLORADO END
Colorado, winner of the Big Eight title and beaten only by Utah, 21-12, has a great end in Jerry Hillebrand. He's 241 and 6-feet-4.

Sandy Stephens, Minnesota's All-America back, will be worth watching against UCLA in the Rose Bowl. He was a Big Ten stickout for the Golden Gophers who lost their first and last regular season games by a total of eight points. UCLA lost twice, including a 29-6 thumping by Michigan. Minnesota should make amends for its miserable showing last New Year's Day when Murray Warmath's men bowed to Washington, 17-7.

Alabama, the nation's No. 1 team, features tackle Billy Neighbors at 229 pounds against Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl. Clay Bryant's Tuscaloosans allowed only three touchdowns in 10 games and should whomp the Razorbacks, who have been defensive stalwarts in their last five games.

SAXTON AT HALFBACK
Texas, beaten only by TCU, 6-0, will show Jim Saxton, one of the lightest backs in All-America history, against Mississippi in the Cotton Bowl.

Unique Hobby In Collecting Pitchers

HOMER, Ill. (AP) — Mrs. Nolan Craver Sr. collects pitchers. Not baseball pitchers but pitchers used to pour liquids. There is a difference. She has about 300 of them of many sizes and descriptions.

The smallest, a barely a half-inch tall, can rest on your thumb nail. It came from the Alamo, she said. The largest is represented by an Admiral Dewey glass pitcher of the type once popular on dining tables.

"Many of my pitchers are antiques that have come to me from the family," Mrs. Craver said. "They are family heirlooms and are 70 years old or more."

TOO NEAR THE RANCH

WHEATLAND, Wyo. (AP) — An over-anxious big game hunter from Pennsylvania fired seven shots in quest of antelope and deer near a Wheatland ranch this fall.

Reaching his targets, the hunter found four dead and two wounded horses. The seventh shot had missed.

The hunter paid the farmer for the six horses.

SILVER CHIMES OF CHRISTMAS...

Christmas is like a silvery chime
With wave-notes sweet and clear
Bringing to all the world around
A season of good cheer.

And if you listen closely, you
Can hear the distant bells;
Over a snowy countryside
Their sacred music swells!

Down through the valley, o'er the plain,
O'er wooded mountains high —
The cadence of the tinkling bells
Leaps up to touch the sky!

Hark! How the distant silvery chimes
Bring wave-notes loud and clear!
'Tis Christmas, Christmas everywhere...
The season of good cheer!

WEST EXTENDS OLIVE BRANCH TO RED LEADER

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—A challenging statement from the Anglo-American summit in Bermuda threw a two-fisted Premier Khrushchev.

It extended an olive branch on two fronts—the nuclear testing issue and the Berlin situation—but it pinned on him any blame for failure to find a way out, and labeled him responsible for the decision to resume testing in the atmosphere.

Probably these were the most important results of the two days of calm, frank conversation between President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

ONE GOOD ASPECT

But there was one aspect of the meeting that leaves little for the West to cheer about. That is: While the two statesmen spoke of Allied unity, the conference had the effect, in a sense, of spotlighting disunity.

French President Charles de Gaulle was highly conspicuous by his absence here. U.S. and British spokesmen of course insisted there had never been any intention to have anything but a two-way Anglo-American parley.

That however is beside the point. Conversations here clearly underscored De Gaulle's strong opposition to any approach to Khrushchev on the Berlin issue, smacking of outright negotiations.

Kennedy and Macmillan proposed that the U.S. ambassador do some more probing in Moscow to determine whether there is any basis for fruitful negotiations.

NOTHING TO NEGOTIATE
De Gaulle is represented in Paris as feeling strongly that there is nothing to negotiate regarding Berlin.

There is a growing body of opinion on both sides of the Atlantic that the Communists' open avowals of the intention to dominate the world should be taken seriously and that this rules out any idea of fruitful negotiations.

There had been a fair degree of unity in British and American views before the Bermuda meetings and the conference served to emphasize this to the rest of the world. The two leaders also can consider they have effectively told the world the West has done and still is doing all that could reasonably be considered possible to restrain themselves in the face of massive Soviet nuclear tests.

SEE BIGGER DEMAND
PITTSBURGH (AP)—The president of Aluminum Company of America has predicted the demand for aluminum will increase in 1962.

Lawrence Litchfield Jr. said Friday in a year-end statement: "We are hopeful that our shipments and gross revenues will increase about 10 per cent in 1962. Should this happen in the pattern we expect, net income next year should be substantially higher."

$300,000 Fire At Wilkinsburg

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Fire Chief Russell Fry of Wilkinsburg estimates the loss at $300,000 from a fire that burned through a three-story brick furniture warehouse in that Pittsburgh suburb Friday.

The flames broke out near a loading dock in the rear of the Faller Furniture Co., building, but the cause was not determined.

As firemen from Pittsburgh joined Wilkinsburg firemen in battling the flames, persons were evacuated from several other buildings in the area, including the seven-story Shields Building. Two firemen were affected by smoke. They were treated at Columbia Hospital then returned to the fire.

son in "whatever part might be from helpful."

President Charles de Gaulle of France, who has held out against negotiations now, is to be kept informed and consulted—not ignored.

Kennedy and Macmillan agreed that because of Russia's "massive" resumption of nuclear testing in the atmosphere, "it is now necessary as a matter of prudent planning that preparations should be made for atmospheric testing to maintain the effectiveness" of the West's nuclear power.

The U.S. delegates were happy to win this agreement from Macmillan, who at home faces opposition to the resumption of nuclear testing.

But, Macmillan agreed only to consider a Kennedy request for use of Britain's Christmas Island in the Pacific as a site for explosions, and he gave no assurance Britain would join in any tests.

Macmillan especially was said to feel the United States and Britain can use the prospect of Western resumption of atmospheric tests as a lever to prod the Soviets into a more accommodating attitude on Berlin and other cold war issues.

Lawrences To Host Christmas Dinner

HARRISBURG (AP)—A Christmas dinner and family reunion in Pittsburgh highlights Gov. Lawrence's skimpy schedule for next week.

Lawrence aides said Friday the governor and his wife are planning to entertain at dinner for their son, Gerald, and their two daughters and families.

The governor also has two speaking appearances scheduled for Thursday. He will make an evening speech before the annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Education Association. He will speak in the afternoon before the Association of Pennsylvania State College faculties.

Two Are Killed In Head-on Collision

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A head-on collision of two autos Friday night on Route 18 killed two men and injured a third.

Killed were Carl J. Jurysta, 30, of Springboro, Pa., and Dean Kellogg, 38, of Conneaut, Ohio. A passenger in Kellogg's car, Robert Bowen, 38, of Ashtabula, Ohio, was admitted to Meadville City Hospital in satisfactory condition.

State police said Jurysta's car crossed the middle of the highway. The wreck occurred 13 miles north of Meadville.

21 REPUBLICS PONDER ACTION AGAINST CUBA

By LOUIS DE LA HABA
WASHINGTON (AP)—The inter-American system's ability to deal with such difficult political issues as what to do about Cuba will be put to the test next month at Punta del Este, Uruguay.

Foreign ministers of the 21 American republics will meet there Jan. 22 to discuss—and perhaps to take measures against—Communist infiltration from Fidel Castro's Cuba.

Castro, who has proclaimed himself a Marxist-Leninist on at least two occasions, still has a following in many Latin-American countries. Some governments, anxious to avoid internal strife, are careful to maintain a neutral attitude toward him.

This is reflected in part by the voting Dec. 4 when the foreign ministers' conference was approved by the Council of the Organization of American States. Cuba, of course, voted against the proposal, which was introduced by Colombia.

ABSTAIN FROM VOTING

Mexico also voted against the proposal—on what it said were juridical grounds. However, most diplomats here concede—though certainly not the Mexicans themselves—that Mexico would have been happier if the question had never come up.

Five other nations, all with deep internal political and economic problems, abstained from the voting—Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile and Ecuador.

At Punta del Este next January the line-up could reasonably be expected to be the same.

If 14 countries—the required two-thirds majority—vote in favor of sanctions against Cuba, such as a break in diplomatic relations, the question then is: Will all the countries go along?

Under the Inter-American Treaty of Reciprocal Assistance, which is the basis for the conference, a two-thirds vote makes it mandatory for all countries to follow the majority decision.

Should any nation not go along—and diplomats here shudder at the thought—it would jar the delicate system of international relations the American nations have built over the years.

D.A. FIGHTING INJUNCTIONS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Allegheny County district attorney's office wants the court to lift its ban against prosecution of supermarket officials under a new Sunday food law.

Officials of four Pittsburgh district supermarkets were arrested recently on charges of violating the law, which prohibits Sunday food sales by stores with 10 or more workers.

But the store officials obtained a temporary injunction that prohibits their being arrested again pending a hearing on the law's constitutionality next Thursday.

Martin Lubow, an assistant district attorney, petitioned the court Friday to dissolve the injunction, claiming it is illegal.

He said the Allegheny County Common Pleas Court has no jurisdiction to issue an injunction unless there is a constitutional question or there is proof of irreparable harm.

Insolent, Bankrupt Company Dissolved

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Acme Insolvent and Bankrupt Estate, Inc., is being dissolved because the firm is insolvent and bankrupt.

The firm's original name was Acme, Inc., a welding supply company that filed a petition for bankruptcy. A Chicagoan offered to buy its name and its good will. This means that the bankrupt company had to adopt a new name.

"So we picked one that we were certain wouldn't conflict with any other in existence," the firm's attorney said with a chuckle. "It's sort of appropriate, too."

TEACHER HAS BUSY SCHEDULE AS CLUB MANAGER

By DORMAN CORDELL
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—At 3:45 p.m. five days a week, Seymour (Pinky) Kravitz, teacher, leaves Central Junior High School after a day of health and physical education classes.

At 7 p.m. seven nights a week, Seymour (Pinky) Kravitz, night club manager, is greeting patrons of one of Atlantic City's largest night clubs.

So far, neither employer has objected to the unusual combination of occupations, the 34-year-old Kravitz says.

"I've been teaching for 11 years and it means a lot to me," he says. "I can't see any conflict."

BUSY SEASON
Since summer is the busy season here, the night club business isn't as demanding during most of the school term, he adds.

"I leave at midnight except on Friday and Saturday," he says. "On these nights I stay until we close—usually around 2 or 3 a.m. I get about seven hours sleep a night, and I'm at school at 8:30 a.m."

Teaching physical education doesn't require as much outside preparation as some other subjects, the 6-foot-5 former New York University basketball player says. "I do most of my lesson preparations on weekends. That's about the only time I see my wife, too, except for a few minutes after school every day."

CURTAINED ACTIVITIES
Kravitz said the night club job has curtailed some of his activities with young people, which brought him the title of Young Man of the Year for 1961 from the Atlantic City Junior Chamber of Commerce.

These activities include being co-coach of the team which won the World Biddy Basketball Tournament at Jersey City in 1956 and finished second here in 1957. He also arranged a tour here by a Puerto Rican biddy basketball team, and sent an Atlantic City team to Puerto Rico this year.

STATE TAKES LAND
A chunk of more than 4,000 acres in the northern section of Franklin County was added to state game lands Friday.

Attorney General Thomas Z. Muehler Friday afternoon visited the Franklin County courthouse to take title on behalf of the state Game Commission. The woodland suitable for game preservation is part of the former Kalback land of Harrison, Levi and William Kalback located in Path and Amberson Valleys.

TEXANS VOTE TODAY TO FILL RAYBURN POST

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP)—Voters in the late Sam Rayburn's congressional district sought to elect his successor today.

Political observers expect last-minute Christmas chores to keep many away from the polls. As few as 14,000 ballots are expected. Only 18,461 of about 45,000 eligible voters in the 4th District cast ballots earlier this year in a special U.S. Senate election.

The seven-county 4th District is the sixth least-populous in the nation with 216,371 residents. Rayburn for years persuaded the legislature to keep the district intact. He died Nov. 16 of cancer. Running for his seat are three conservatives and four men pledged to carry on the tradition of Rayburn, who held the seat 48 years.

The conservatives are Conner Harrington, 36, and Plano Farmer, a Republican. Jack Finney, 45, a Greenville real estate operator calls himself a conservative Democrat.

The other four are Democrats who say their political views are close to those of Rayburn, who was considered a moderate-liberal in this state.

They are R. C. Slagle Jr., 51, a Sherman attorney who was the speaker's county campaign manager; Roy G. Baker, 47, a Sherman attorney who received two federal appointments through Rayburn; State Sen. Ray Roberts, 48, of McKinney, at one time the speaker's secretary; and David Brown, 41, a Sherman attorney who ran against Rayburn 13 years ago but who supported him after that.

If no candidate receives a majority over all others, a runoff must be held before Feb. 12 between the two top men. Politicians say a runoff is likely. Polls open at 9 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. Law forbids election officials to reveal results until the voting ends.

CHARGED AFTER CRASH
Edward E. Steinour, 30, Gettysburg R. 5, was arrested by Hanover police for failure to halt at a stop sign after a pickup truck he was driving collided at the intersection of Locust and E. Walnut Sts. Friday night at 8 o'clock. No one was injured. Police estimated damage to the truck at $250 and to the car driven by Mrs. Lawrence P. Maus, 40, of 213 Third St., at $200.

5 YEAR OLD BOY WANTS EASTER EGGS FOR XMAS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Christmas is magic. It is mystery. It is merriment. It is replete with mechanical marvels nowadays.

It is also monkeyshines. Like the silly man's try at singeing a store Santa's whiskers, which failed because the fluffy stuff wouldn't burn.

Christmas is making mistakes, too.

For example, the five-year-old Philadelphia boy who, when asked by a Santa Claus what he wanted for Christmas, came out with, "All I want is Easter eggs."

George Green might have had the right reply for that one. But Green, who for 35 years played Santa in the toyland of a mid-city store, has been kept out of action by illness this season.

Steeped in the Santa mystique as few have been, Green wrote a manual for those starting out on careers as aides to St. Nick.

SCORES PHONINESS

He is dead-set against doing too much of the "ho, ho, ho" business, and anything else that smacks of phoniness. And, in his words, "children are quick to appreciate an adult who has never really grown up and is still a kid at heart."

These ideas are clearly shared by another Santa, William Keener, of Bethlehem. The 69-year-old Keener might at hasty sight be the unluckiest of Santas. He just misses the five-foot-six mark, and although his 120 pounds could get down the slimmest chimney his spare framework, on its own, is hardly convincing.

HAS REAL BEARD

Keener has one asset, however, that outweighs any disadvantage. It is a home-grown, true life beard of the right texture, length and glow. Judicious padding rounds out the impersonation.

And strange as it sounds, psychiatrists say that this season also can bring on what is called holiday depression. People get headaches, stomach aches, rashes, dissolve into tears, explode in tantrums, vow they'll be Scrooges henceforth.

The psychiatrists say many of these discomforts and probably most of the unseemly and untimely behavior are the result of shopping sprees beyond the means of the buyer, overeating of rich foods, too much elbow-bending, going to too many parties, especially the kind that often wind up large lack of inhibitions.

nations in southern and central Iowa even though many schools let out early.

Packed snow made driving hazardous in most of the storm area where roads were passable. Parts of Iowa, Minnesota and the Dakotas were glazed with ice that formed when drizzle was frozen by icy blasts.

Buses and trains, loaded with homeward bound travelers, were running hours behind schedule in the storm areas. The job of clearing highways was hampered by stalled vehicles.

FREEZING RAIN

The snow belt extended into the eastern Great Lakes and southward into the Ohio Valley, where it was mixed with freezing rain. Rain drenched parts of the Northwest, changing to snow in the mountains.

Mostly fair weather prevailed over the rest of the nation with temperatures along the West Coast ranging from the 30s in the north to the 60s in southern California. The line of freezing temperatures extended as far south as Texas and eastward across the southern Appalachians.

Kennedy Finds Improvement In His Father's Condition

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy, once again near his stricken father, begins a Christmas holiday with his family today.

The President hurried to St. Mary's Hospital Friday immediately after winging in from two days of talks in Bermuda with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. He found his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, had improved since he left two days ago. Hospital medical authorities said they were confident the elder Kennedy would survive the stroke that felled him last Tuesday. But they expressed concern over whether he would recover from the paralysis that affects his right leg and arm and the left side of his face, including his speech.

The 73-year-old former ambassador's illness left the big, closely knit family's Christmas plans up in the air.

THREE KEEP VIGIL

The President, with no business scheduled for today, was expected to visit his father. His brothers, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Edward Kennedy, returned to the hospital Friday night during a rain. They kept a vigil there along with their cousin, Anne Gargan of Boston, who had been playing golf with the elder Kennedy the day he was stricken.

The President was met by his wife, Jacqueline, who accompanied him to the hospital. They spent about 30 minutes in the third floor suite. The President had no comment before or after the visit.

Then they drove alone to the ocean front home of Mr. and Mrs. Capton Michael Paul, friends of the family. The President had planned to spend the holidays at the estate before the elder Kennedy suffered his stroke. Caroline and her one-year-old brother John Jr. were installed there last week.

Physicians at the hospital have declined to be quoted directly concerning the probable effects of the stroke.

They said that if a patient responded in 24 to 48 hours he could regain full use of limbs and faculties. In most cases where paralysis is caused by a blood clot on the brain, they said, recovery is less complete the longer it takes to regain use of arms and legs.

Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston, who visited the patient, said he told Kennedy, "You're going to be all right" and that Kennedy replied, "I know I am." The hospital did not confirm that Kennedy spoke.

BURY C. H. HUMBERT
Funeral services for Charles H. Humbert, 63, Mayberry, Westminster R. 1, who died at his home following a six-week illness on Thursday, were conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock from Little's Funeral Home, Littlestown.

The Rev. Christopher J. Noss, pastor of St. Mary's United Church of Christ, Silver Run, officiated. Interment was in Baust United Church of Christ Cemetery, near Tyrone, Carroll County. The pallbearers were Ivan Boose, Charles Formwalt, Luther Humbert, Paul Humbert, LeRoy Myers and Adam Rickell.

Two Die When Two Vehicles Collide

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two autos crashed head-on early today in nearby Green Tree, killing both drivers.

Pronounced dead on the scene were William Cammarata, about 40, of Pittsburgh, and Elmer Bock, 37, of suburban Coraopolis.

Police said Bock's car veered off the road on the right side, hit some guard rails, then bounced across the middle of the highway into the path of Cammarata's oncoming car.

One policeman said the collision of the Penn-Lincoln Parkway was the worst wreck he had seen in 12 years. The cars rammed together so hard the windshields ended up only inches apart.

sparked an increase in continued claims for unemployment last week, reports the State Bureau of Employment Security.

Bureau aides said Friday continued claims jumped from 186,616 to 189,303 between Dec. 10 and Dec. 15. New Claims, however, dropped to 35,766.

Meal Without Salad Is Like Turkey Without Its Trimming Says Economist

MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
Extension Home Economist

A meal without a salad is like a turkey without the trimmings. So put salad on the menu when planning your Christmas dinner. Besides adding color and interest to a meal, a salad may be used to carry out a holiday theme.

Because holiday meals are apt to be rather rich and heavy, serve a salad that contrasts in flavor and texture with the other foods. Tart salads are especially good with a heavy meal.

For a touch of color and something different, try a Christmas tree salad. Add finely diced apples and celery to lime gelatin and put into cone shape paper cups. When ready to serve, unmold the salad on lettuce or endive and garnish with mayonnaise. If you wish, you can put mayonnaise on with a pastry tube to give the effect of tinsel.

HOLIDAY TOUCH

Give your favorite tossed salad the holiday touch by adding a few seedless grapes and halved pitted red grapes. Or sprinkle the salad with pomegranate seeds or thinly sliced raw cranberries. Try using star shaped molds for tomato aspic or cranberry salad. For a green and white salad, remove the membrane from green peppers and then pack with seasoned cream cheese. Add chopped pimento to the cream cheese for added color and a Christmas look. Chill the stuffed peppers before slicing to serve on lettuce or other salad green.

RED CHERRY TIME

"It's cherry time all the time" and there's no time quite like holiday time to include this beautiful red fruit in our "feasting" plans.

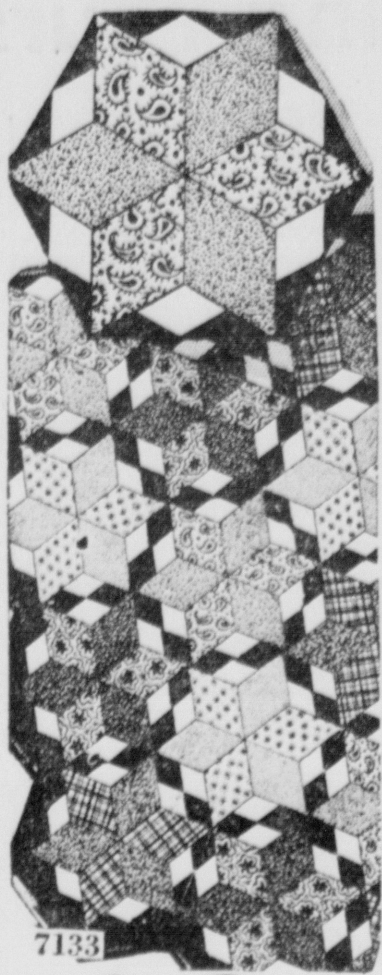

The 1961 red cherry crop turned out to be larger than had been estimated... about 25% larger, in fact. We are, therefore, assured that there will be red tart cherries to use all during the holidays and during the weeks to come when entertaining activities are at their height.

The total cherry pack has been estimated at about 300 million pounds... the largest since the early 1950's. An interesting fact is this: well over half of the pack was frozen. For the quality-conscious consumer, this is good news because she knows that cherries, with sugar added at freezing time, will maintain much of the natural color, flavor and texture of the fruit.

FROZEN PACK

It is the frozen pack which furnishes the market with many versatile cherry products. Prominent among these are cherry pie filling, jellied cherry sauce and whole cherry sauce.

The bright red associated with Christmas is a natural characteristic of the red tart cherry which, therefore, lends itself so well to festive holiday foods.

Convenience is an essential quality of these items which you will find in your local retail stores. Open a can and the product is all-ready to be used—just as it is, or as an ingredient for many interesting salads or desserts.

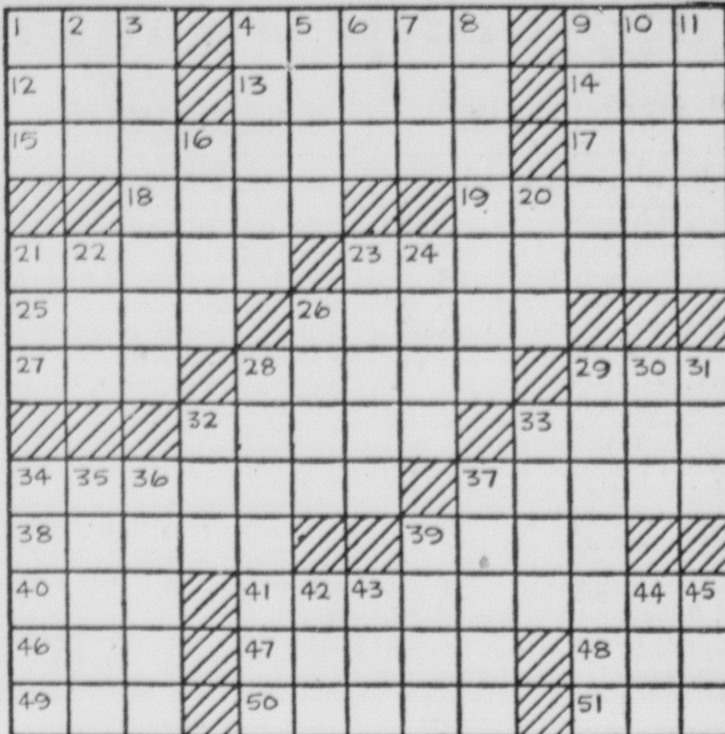

Cherry pie filling is not just for pies. It makes an excellent topping for ice cream—served hot or cold. A glamorous dessert may be prepared in minutes with an angel food cake, sliced, filled and topped with this bright red fruit filling.

JELLIED CHERRY SAUCE

Jellied cherry sauce goes right along with pie filling when we think of convenience and versatility. It is an excellent accompaniment for meat; adds color and flavor to salads; it makes eye-appealing cherry desserts. This delicately flavored product is prepared from tart cherries, pure cherry juice and citrus pectin. The glowing red color and cherry flavor are distinctive. Whole cherry sauce, mildly spiced, puts a baked ham in the gourmet class. This sauce is also delightful with turkey. In orange cups—surrounding the holiday bird... a taste treat and eye-catching garnish.

Abundant bright red cherry products offer their brilliance and tart sweet flavor to the hostess who is looking for convenience, variety, flavor and beauty in her holiday menu.

BANK ROBBER GETS $12,898 IN PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Police are looking for a gunman who grabbed $12,898 at gunpoint from a branch bank in Pittsburgh's Shadyside section and slightly wounded a woman teller.

The robber, described as a tall, heavy man wearing a light green hunting jacket and tan cap, entered the crowded Shadyside Branch of the Western Pennsylvania National Bank Friday. After waiting his turn in line, he shoved a note across the counter to a teller, Miss Marian Brace.

The note read: "Be quiet. Be quick or you're dead. Put all the 5-10-20-50 bills in bag and hand it to me. Quietly or quickly or you're dead."

FRAGMENTS STRIKE WOMAN

The gunman had a green cloth bag. As he stuffed money into it, his pistol fired.

The bullet clipped the counter, and fragments of the bullet and counter struck Miss Brace's chest, face and arms.

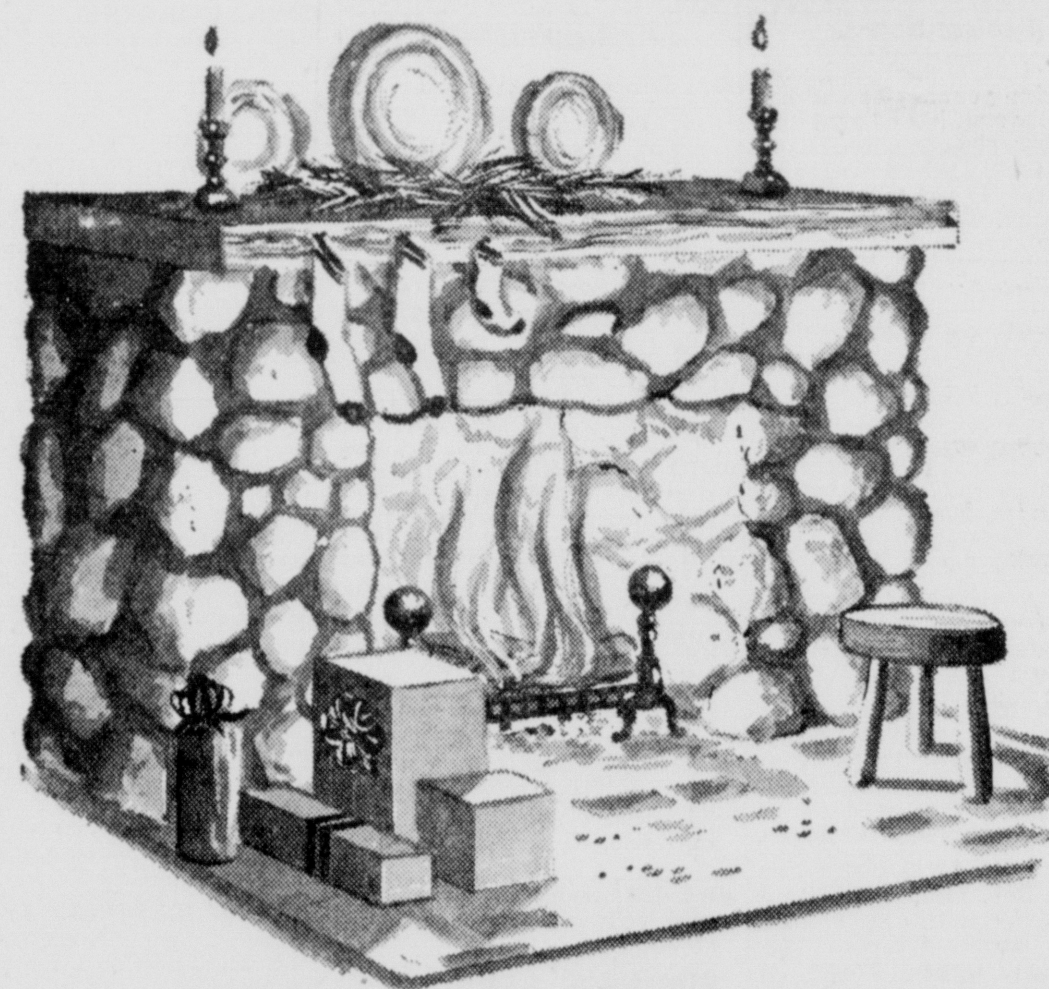

The holdup man turned and ran from the bank with half a dozen people in pursuit. But he managed to get away in a stolen car that was found abandoned an hour later in the city's Oakland section.

Miss Brace was taken to Shadyside Hospital for treatment of her superficial wounds. She was listed in satisfactory condition but was detained overnight.

"I think the gun might have gone off accidentally," Miss Brace said. "I don't know."

"Bonanza" Offers Christmas Cheer To Wandering Orphan

By PAUL GERARD

"Bonanza," now in its third year, came on the television scene at a time when TV programming was heavily lopsided with westerns.

For another western to hope for any semblance of longevity at that time was unbelievable. Yet, last season "Bonanza" was placed by all rating services among TV's top shows, and this season is still going strong while many other westerns have gone.

factor. Finally, people can and want to be identified with the father image and with peaceful pursuits rather than violence."

WAS NEWSCASTER

Needless to say, Lorne is not a man of few words. Throughout the interview, he unhesitatingly answered all our questions. It was a pleasure to listen to his resonant, mellifluous voice which was heard for many years on the CBS network when he was chief news broadcaster.

were weak, but all his characters were strong men of passion and emotion set against a wife background," Lorne continued.

In "Bonanza" as Ben Cartwright, the patriarch, Lorne stands out as the staunch father-ruler of "The Ponderosa" — a thousand square miles of timbered land that stretches the length of the eastern shore of Lake Tahoe — by safeguarding the romantic Little Joe (Mike Landon), directing the leader of the sons, Adam Lorne Greene as Ben Cartwright of "Bonanza" fights the Christmas tree candles in a special yuletide episode, "Gabrielle," Sunday, NBC-TV, color, 9-10 p.m. EST.

The question uppermost in our mind while interviewing Lorne Greene, star of "Bonanza," was what was the reason for its great success.

"'Bonanza' is more than a western," Lorne told us.

ABOUT BUILDERS

"In most westerns the character rides into town, finds a problem and then rides out ruthless as ever. The true western folklore is not about people who were ruthless. It's about people who were builders.

"This is what gives 'Bonanza' its lasting quality," Lorne went on.

"All the stories attempt to relate the pioneer aspect of the Old West. In addition, the father-son relationship strong in life has always been the best dramatically. Basically 'Bonanza' is a love affair between four men with the father image the predominant "Anything thing that undoubtedly accounts for 'Bonanza's' continued success is the fact that we are, I'm sure, the happiest set in Hollywood," Lorne confided.

"I don't mean to give the impression that the four of us are always happy with every phase of the production. I guess the fellow we give the most trouble to is our producer, David Dortort," Lorne continued.

"But I feel any criticisms or suggestions any of us may present are indications of our satisfaction with the basic format and a vital interest in the continued success of the show."

"MEN OF PASSION"

Having played Shakespearean roles at the Stratford, Canada's Shakespeare Festival, Greene is a great believer in the methods and technique of the "Bard of Avon."

"Many of Shakespeare's stories

(Pernell Roberts) and taming the muscular Hoss (Dan Blocker).

In the Christmas episode, Sunday, 9-10 p.m., NBC-TV, the Cartwrights discover a blind, orphan girl wandering alone in the snow-covered mountains and bring her to the Ponderosa for a Christmas party.

In keeping with the format of close family ties, "Bonanza" is a natural for a Christmas show.

Having heard Lorne Greene's explanation for "Bonanza's" success, a Christmas story in a TV western has become more believable. For it was the family that built the west—not the drifter. And it is the family that has made our country great.

Many Changes Planned By CBS

There will be a number of major nighttime program changes in the CBS Television Network schedule, all effective in January. The changes were designed to make the network's over-all nighttime schedule even stronger in a highly competitive year.

The changes follow:

Starting January 4, "Mrs. G. Goes to College," currently presented Wednesdays, 9:30-10 p.m. EST, switches to Thursdays, 9:30-10 p.m.

Starting January 3, "The Dick Van Dyke Show," currently presented Tuesdays, 8-8:30 p.m. EST, switches to Wednesdays, 9:30-10 p.m.

Starting January 2, a new nighttime version of "Password" will be scheduled Tuesdays at 8-8:30 p.m. EST.

Starting Thursday, January 11, the new Groucho series, "Tell It to Groucho," will be presented at 9-9:30 p.m., EST.

If you hear Lassie growling, that's because his original mom, Jan Clayton, is making kistory. In a forthcoming "Tall Man" episode, Jan is going to get her first adult television kiss from none than Barry Sullivan, Sheriff Pat McGarrett of the Saturday night western.

It hasn't been decided yet but plans are afoot to travel Mitch Miller's "Sing Along," this season's big hit show on NBC-TV Thursday nights. According to Bill Hobin, producer, they'd like to stage the program in such places as Mystic, Conn.; Williamsburg, Va., and Sturbridge, Mass. They're trying to work out details now.

Jack Bailey, emcee of "Queen for a Day," holds the title "King of Christmas Giving" in his post as 1961 national chairman of the Volunteers of America Christmas fund drive. A Christmas campaign, with sidewalk Santas manning chimney-shaped collection boxes through December 24, provides a cheerier holiday for the needy families, the aged and the homeless.

Kyle Rote, New York Giants football star, who has also become increasingly active in radio and TV in New York with shows of his own, also makes many personal appearances at high school and boys clubs in order to promote the concept of juvenile decency.

Johnny Mathis has been signed to return to New York's Copacabana nightclub on February 8. The singer who recently completed a strenuous concert tour, intends to take a complete vacation until his Capa opening, except for two days during the Christmas season when he will headline a stage show at the New York Academy of Music.

New Game Show Opens January 2

"Your First Impression," a new panel game show in color, will make its debut on the NBC-TV Network Tuesday, January 2. Two of the three panel members will be Dennis James and George Kirgo. The third, a woman, will be announced shortly as will the name of the moderator.

The new half-hour color broadcast, which will originate on the west coast, will be seen Mondays through Fridays in the 12 noon time spot in place of "Truth or Consequences," which will move to 12:30 p.m. "It Could Be You," now seen at 12:30, will go off the air.

"Your First Impression" is a guessing game in which three panelists, aided by a moderator, try to identify a mystery guest from a "possible" list of five people of the same sex.

DICK POWELL IS BUSY WITH TV PRODUCTION

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—For a guy who thought he had called it quits as an actor, Dick Powell doesn't look retired.

Matter of fact, he was never busier in the days when he was warbling to Ruby Keeler in an endless succession of Warner Bros. musicals.

This season he is doing 10 one-hour dramas as well as hosting "The Dick Powell Show." It is one of the big hits of 1961, which means he'll have much the same schedule next year.

This delights him as president of Four Star Television and staggers him as Dick Powell, actor. I found him somewhat weary but unbowed on the set of his latest drama, a fight yarn with Sammy Davis Jr. Dick is a newspaper reporter in this one, having already played such roles as a millionaire cop, spy, Air Force commander, gangster and bum this season.

CAN'T GET AWAY
"I realized the other day this is my 10th year in TV," he sighed. "We started with Four Star Playhouse, then Zane Grey Theater, now this one. I can't seem to get away from it."

But if he is the boss, how come he has to work so hard?
"A combination of circumstances," he replied. "This show gave us an in with NBC, which we've never had before. And it's an anthology, which we can use for spin-offs."

Spin-off is a TV term for shows that come out of shows. Examples: "The Untouchables," which developed from Desilu Playhouse; the Andy Griffith Show out of Danny Thomas' Show.

Trouble is, the Powell spin-offs often involve Powell, and he does not want to spin. He could find ready buyers for the affluent detective he played in the first segment of the series, "Who Killed Julie Greer?"

TOO OLD FOR WEEKLY
"But I'm too old to play a weekly show," Powell said. "And how are you going to cast it? Who can play that offbeat kind of comedy? Cary Grant? Sure—try to get him!"

While Powell may flag as an actor, he can exult as an executive. Four Star faced a disastrous season when most of its shows were canceled last year.

"We might have been stuck with only one show on the air," he said. "As it is, we have eight half-hours of network time, compared to 11 last season. Next year we will have 12-13. We've already sold a new one, 'McKeever and the Colonel.'"

Among other possibilities: A revival of the Four Star Playhouse with his wife, June Allyson, and partners Charles Boyer and David Niven.

RADIO AND TV EMPHASIZING XMAS SHOWS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The question before the house today concerns the over-attention TV and its sister, radio, gives Christmas.

Why, oh why, does every TV production unit, whether it is cranking out half-hour Westerns or stitching together a situation comedy feel that it must devote this week's plot to the holiday?

Why, oh why, does every radio disc jockey feel he must endlessly repeat well-loved and familiar Christmas songs—particularly the sound-up versions for the rock 'n' roll and twist enthusiasts?

A few Christmas shows carefully assigned to certain programs each year by the TV networks, which are presumed to supervise and control the content of their shows, would certainly prevent this annual super-saturation of the comic Santas, office-party sketches and tons of shabby tinsel and popcorn snow.

With most commercials currently decked with holly and decorated trees, Christmas Day itself arrives as an anticlimax. The traditional joyous sounds of the day are heard so often they lose their effectiveness.

LAUNCH NEW PROGRAM

NBC, which didn't have much luck last season with its regular debate series, "The Nation's Future," which was inspired by the Kennedy - Nixon confrontations, hasn't given up the idea entirely. Early in February, it will launch a Sunday afternoon series

WILL TRIM 20 FOOT XMAS TREE

A 20-foot Christmas tree!

That's the size of the towering pine which will stand in the great hall of Bud Collyer's Norman farmhouse in Greenwich, Conn., this Yule.

"Rockefeller Center in New York chooses between two every year," explains the emcee of popular songs of recent years.

Christmas morning: Roman Catholic services at midnight and Protestant services in the forenoon, all networks.

"Number Please." "This time I think we took the one they rejected."

The monumental task of decorating this majesty of the forest which will be wired to the oak beams of the ceiling is going to be handled by the entire Collyer family: Bud; wife, Marian; daughters, Patricia and Cynthia, and son, Michael.

"Our accessories will include over 60 multicolored lights of the outdoor variety, 120 balls of all sizes and colors and miles of tinsel," Bud says.

"From past experience, we devote four hours in the evening and the entire following day to decorating this giant so it will be ready by Christmas Eve," Bud adds.

Who has the job of "undressing" the tree after the holidays? "Can't you guess?" asks Bud.

HAZARDOUS DUTY

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Night duty for a policewoman can be hazardous sometimes.

Police Matron Albina Jenko was rushed to the county emergency hospital for treatment of a dislocated jaw suffered when she yawned at 3:30 a.m.
